TORONTO TIDINGS

A slight error appeared in these columns in the issue of October 23d, referring to the birthday party given in honor of Mrs. Bell. It should have been Mrs. Lionel Bell, of Birch Cliffe, and not Mrs. Walter Bell, of Oshawa, as stated. A slip of their first names was the cause.

We were so delighted to meet Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jones and little girl at our church on October 26th. They motored down from Palgrave that day to visit relatives here, and greet their many deaf friends.

It was a wonderful address that Mr. John T. Shilton gave at our service on October 26th, that elicited much interest and deep thought. Speaking on "Victory," he compared this to defeat in all walks and works of this life, and showed the conquering force that follows victory, but real victory is never achieved, no matter what the circumstances may be, unless you have the aid of Christ, and the achievement is for the good of mankind. Mr. H. W. Roberts rendered the solo, "O, Beautiful Home, in the Heart of His Love."

Mr. Frank Pierce recently enjoyed a very pleasant vacation with friends down in Ottawa and Montreal, and also over in Buffalo, N. Y., and says he had in a great time in more than a hundred ways.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Grooms and family motored down to Mr. Grooms' old home in Napanee, on October 25th, where they had a nice time; and next day came up to Belleville, where Mr. Grooms conducted the service at our Alma Mater on Sunday afternoon. Mr. William Hazlitt accompanied the Grooms, as far as Belleville to see his son, now attending the same school as his parents did years ago. The whole party arrived home safely that Sunday evening.

Interesting reminiscences of the deaf often loom up concerning their doings in their youth. Mrs. H. W. Roberts has just learned that when she was an infant she was baptized by the father of the Earl of Birkenhead, who was then a minister stationed at Maple, Ont., and when the Earl was a young man with political aspiration.

We regret to say that Mrs. Francis Molduc is very ill at her home on Pape Avenue, and has been so for over three months. She is a deaf sister of Mrs. J. L. Smith, Mr. John Terrell and the late Mrs. Wm. Nurse.

Mrs. Robert M. King and young daughter are, at time of writing, spending a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. C. Chestnut and other relatives. Mrs. King's sister motored down and brought them up from Frankford.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Walker were agreeably surprised and pleased to see the latter's brother, Walter, his wife and daughter, who motored down from Dundas on October 26th, and had dinner with them, and before the visitors left for home late that same afternoon, the whole party motored over and spent a while with Sidney's brother, Alfred Walker and family.

The good-sized crowd that turned out to our Bible Class meeting on October 29th, was very ably entertained to a very interesting lecture, on the seven "Bible Bells," that are referred to in His word. This talk was given by Mr. W. R. Watt in his usual forceful way. The Bells are thus: The Fire Bell, of Warning; The Church Bell of Love, The Dinner Bell of Grace, The School Bell of Light, The Work Bell of Life, The Golden Bell of Testimony and The Passing Bell of Death. Each bell was fully described in its denoting form.

Miss Evelyn Hazlitt and Messrs. John Buchan, Ellsworth Bowman and W. W. Scott, were all called up in the last week of October to try their annual examinations on postal laws and regulations. The results will be announced from Ottawa in a few weeks.

Miss A. M. Grant, whom many remember as the young lady, who was a deaconess among the deaf of Scotland for years, and who gave us a valuable account of her labors among our fellow deaf in the land of the heather, some time ago, was an interesting visitor at our service on October 26th. She promised platform convenor

Roberts that she would give us another interesting talk before long.

As stated in your last issue, Mr. Herbert Fountain finally "caught on" with one of the Sunoco Oil Companies, and is now steadily employed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Scott are home again after spending a week's holiday's lately with the latter's parents in Wellandport, interwoven with a couple of days at Niagara Falls, N. Y. As Mr. Scott is imbued with a passion for hunting, he took along his trusty rifle, and had no trouble bagging a good-sized wild duck.

Miss Ada James, of the Belleville school staff, took a sudden notion on October 31st, to run up to this city, so boarded the International Limited late that afternoon, and arrived here just in time for our Hallowe'en social at our church that evening, and remained over night at "Mora Glen," returning to her duties next evening.

That ever-smiling young looking lady, Mrs. Stanley B. Wright, came up from Bobcaygeon on October 31st, to attend our Hallowe'en social, and greet her innumerable friends here. She brought along two of her city relatives to enjoy the fun of the evening.

Our Women's Association staged another social on October 31st, in the form of a Hallowe'en party, and it was a fine affair, with old and young alike sharing in the fun. There were many masqueraders out in Mother Hubbard mocking styles, and the little children seemed to have a great time of it. Master Jack Grooms and his younger sister, Mary, along with little Shirley Forrester, and her brother, Jack, each captured a prize. As for the adults, Mrs. John Buchan, easily took first prize in her bewitching costume of an Egyptian night prowler, while her sister-in-law, Miss Carrie Buchan, was a close second. In the Spanish apple game, Mr. Walter Daniels captured the only prize offered in this game. A nice little sun for church purposes was raked in that evening.

At time of writing, Mr. J. R. Byrne is slowly, but steadily gaining in health.

WATERLOO WEE BITS

The father of Gordon Meyer and Mr. John Boyle, with Mrs. J. A. Moynihan motored out to Elmira on October 24th, to try and get Mr. Boyle a position, but were unsuccessful. The Great West Felt Co. had advertised for help, but friend John applied too late. While in that town they took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. John Forsythe.

Mr. Arthur Staubitz, who was up this way recently visiting old acquaintances, has returned to Cornell, N. Y. He informed us he was down in Texas for a year, but found indoor life in the South not to his liking, so is now a "Mountie" on the force in New York City. He has abandoned his original intention of entering the Oshawa, Ont., Theological College, as he prefers the open training, and we hear he is in a movie play now.

The greatest conflagration that Waterloo has ever encountered happened recently when the Weber Furniture Company's plant, a block from the Moynihans, was razed, and is now in ruins, with a loss of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Mr. Moynihan once worked at this plant. A sister of Mr. William Hagen, named Mrs. Uffelman, had her residence close by, but by heroic efforts on the part of the fireman her home was saved.

Mr. and Mrs. John Forsythe, of Elmira, observed the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding on October 12th, when they were made the recipients of many beautiful, costly and useful gifts by relatives and friends. Among the gifts were a lovely silver and cut glass butter chest from their only child, Miss Marie Forsythe, who is now working in Sebringville, and a box of artificial fruit for the buffet from Mrs. J. A. Moynihan.

Mr. Charles Golds, Jr., who remained behind in Kitchener for a week following the big social here on October 18th, left for Toronto on October 26th.

Mr. Gordon Meyer and his father took Mr. John R. Boyle out to his home near Waldemar on October 26th, in their car. John was not able to pick up a position here, but many return here again, when better business conditions pick up.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

Miss Sylvia Caswell, of Niagara Falls, and her sister, Mrs. Harris, of St. Catharines, with Miss Nellie Patrick, motored up to St. Thomas for the week-end of November 1st, visiting old friends and looking into the new home of Sylvia's future happiness.

Mr. George W. Reeves, of Toronto, was in charge of the service for the deaf in Hamilton, on October 26th, and had a very large crowd present, who seemed to thoroughly enjoy the address. He was the guest of old friends while in that city, and the deaf there were so pleased to meet him after a long separation.

Miss Nellie Patrick, of Dunsford, went down to St. Catharines on October 30th, to spend a week with her chum, Miss Sylvia Caswell, prior to the latter's marriage at whose wedding Miss Patrick was bridesmaid.

Among the weekly subscriptions that pour unto the writer for transmission to the Editor was one from our old friend, Miss Mary F. Campbell, of Avonmore, who on learning it had much Canadian news every week decided to take it. It is a long time since her old schoolmates had last seen her. We are glad to hear she is doing so well, and trust she continues to enjoy this life's blessings.

Mrs. Stanley B. Wright, of Bobcaygeon, has been in Peterboro for quite a while lately, attending to the wants of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Preston, who was very ill lately, but is now much improved. Mrs. Preston is well-known and highly esteemed by the deaf, on account of her pleasant and winning ways.

Looking back over the horizon of the past, we find it is close unto thirty-eight years since Miss Lottie Irene Henry, of what was then the city of Berlin (now Kitchener), passed from this blurring scene into the Glorious Immortality. While she was at the Belleville school, she was quite a classy dresser and sometimes wore expensive garb, but on the other hand was greatly beloved by those who were home-sick or were orphans, to whom she attached herself in a motherly way. Although possessed of good financial means, Lottie was a very modest and heart loving maiden, always exuding a pleasing countenance. In this way she won legions of friends. Her remains were interred in a lonely grave in the rural cemetery at Summerville, a small hamlet on the Toronto and Clappison Highway, some twelve miles west of the "Queen City." On passing this spot you see nothing but an old weather beaten and dilapidated wooden slab that remains to remind you of her last resting place, with the grave overrun with weeds and burr stalks.

In the tragic and sudden death of Mrs. George Tripp, and serious injury to her husband in an auto accident near Lansing, Mich., the deaf over here, who knew them very well, were shocked to hear of it. We all extend sincere sympathy to Mr. Tripp in the loss of his wife, and the injury that befell him.

Mrs. Henry Gamble, of Wallaceburg (nee Mary McBride), has been visiting relatives in Bobcaygeon for some time past. Mr. Gamble was down for the Thanksgiving recess, and both returned home together. Mrs. Gamble is fast recovering from her recent operation.

The Misses Sylvia Caswell, of Stamford, and Helen A. Middleton, of Niagara Falls, were in Buffalo, N. Y., over the week-end of October 25th, shopping and visiting the former's relatives. Miss Caswell formally took farewell of her employers at Niagara Falls, on October 31st, amid regret, and then left for her married sister's home in St. Catharines for a week's rest and preparation, prior to her marriage on November 8th.

We regret to say that Miss Effie Justus, of Bobcaygeon, sister of the late Miss Mary Justus, and Mrs. Hamilton McBride, was recently in an auto accident and severely injured, but is now slowly recovering.

OHIO

News items for this column can be sent to Miss B. M. Edgar, 56 Latta Avenue, Columbus, Ohio.

Akron, or rather the Goodyear Company there, had the pleasure of having Dr. Gustafsson, superintendent of the school for the deaf at Gottenburg, Sweden, as their guest October 25th. He, in company with Messrs. Ayers and Irvin, had a good chance to see how the American deaf compare with those in his country. He was entertained at dinner by the Goodyear Co., and about a dozen deaf employees were among those partaking of the dinner. Mr. Unsworth acted as interpreter, and many questions were asked the visitor about the deaf in Sweden. There, pure oralism is used, and names must be hard for the children to get. A few trades are taught, but there is no preparation for higher education, unless parents can afford to send children to private schools.

Dr. Gustafsson was somewhat surprised to learn that the deaf are allowed to drive cars in America, and that many deaf here own their own homes.

Mr. Ayers took the distinguished visitor to Cleveland, where they met Mrs. Ayers and son, Clifford. The latter proved to be a fine interpreter at a dinner given him at the Harvey Palace by the Ayers family. He entertained not only the private party, but all in hearing distance, with stories of his own people. Sorry the doctor could not find time to visit the Ohio School.

Word has been given out that a state senator from Ravenna is to try to have a law passed to deprive the deaf in Ohio of the privilege of driving automobiles. This senator has probably heard of some accident in which a deaf driver figured, and forgets about the hundreds of auto accidents daily among the hearing.

Mr. Howard Durian, of Canton, brought suit against a hearing man for injuries received in an auto accident. The first verdict was in favor of Mr. Durian, but the defendant appealed and the case was retried. The second verdict favored the hearing man, and now the case is to have its third hearing and has attracted much attention in the Canton district.

There was a big crowd at the Hallowe'en Social November 1st, given by the Ladies' Aid Society of Columbus. There was no masquerading this year, but the decorations were in keeping with the Hallowe'en spirit. Many came from surrounding towns and many others from a distance. The supper was well patronized and was sold out early. The society cleared over two hundred dollars, doing much better than had been expected owing to the hard times.

Mrs. Hattie Eikens was entertained by Mrs. Fred O'Brien, at her home in Cincinnati, October 8th. Those honoring Mrs. Eikens were Mrs. A. Clancey, Mrs. J. Shepherd, Mrs. Hannah Woodley, Mrs. Wm. Hoy, Misses Fisher and Ely. After playing "500," dainty refreshments were served.

Mrs. and Mr. Wu. De Silver, of Cincinnati, spent a week in Piqua the guests of Mrs. DeSilver's father, Mr. De Freas. The newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bender, were tendered a miscellaneous shower at their home by their Cincinnati friends. After being out to dinner, they returned home to find their house taken over by friends. Many handsome gifts were given them.

Several of the prominent Cincinnati deaf ladies have formed a bridge club. Mrs. Hay was their first hostess on October 15th.

Mr. Ayers, of Akron, was in the city but failed to take in the social, as business called him to Cincinnati.

Mrs. Clara Runck Munday, of Dayton, was present renewing old friendships. She was the guest of Miss Biggam. The students and friends were glad to again meet Miss Lamson at the social. Mrs. Jones was in the room for awhile and Acting Superintendent Abernathy showed his interest in the deaf by being present.

Mr. Abernathy is kept jumping these days acting as principal and superintendent, and is doing the work well. His kind and pleasing ways appeal to all.

Mrs. William Hoy, of Cincinnati, has been suffering from an attack of arthritis, and her classes in lip reading have missed her at the league for the hard of hearing.

Miss Helen Wondrack, her brother, Frank, and Mr. John Breen, all of Cincinnati, were at the Frat Masquerade in Akron, being guests of their aunt, Mrs. J. Shropshire, Mr. Samuel Frankenheim, of New York, spent two days in Akron, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. K. Ayers recently.

About 350 attended the Akron Frats' Hallowe'en masquerade October 25th, many of them being from distant towns. Over twenty cash prizes were given for costumes worn.

Rev. Collins Sawhill was given a farewell reception in Cleveland, October 17th. Rev. Smielan told briefly of Rev Sawhill's work in Cleveland, and a few songs were signed. At the close of the meetings, Mr. Sawhill was presented a check as a token of esteem from his friends. He probably will remain in Cleveland till spring.

The annual report of the Board of Managers of the Ohio Home has been given out, and is interesting in many ways. While there was no increase in the number of residents, expenses went up greatly, in fact more had to be spent than had been received. In wages and salaries there was an increase of thirty-three percent over the previous year. This item was $3,380.00. The treasurer received $15,476.04 during the year, and expended $17,299.31, which is much more than received. Many needed improvements were made during the year, and there are calls for more improvements. There were three deaths during the year and a few withdrawals; but five were admitted, so the number of residents remains about the same.

Mr. A. B. Greener, financial secretary, reported $7,695.03 received from counties, and $1,039 from guardians. The largest legacy reported was from Mrs. Luella M. Scott, of Mason, O., who willed $1,000.00 to the Home where her niece, Mrs. Elizabeth Bard lives. He reported the counties who have sent people to the Home as responding promptly when bills were presented. Mr. August Beckett has succeeded Mr. Ohlemacher as treasurer, and Mr. Zorn is President of the Board.

Mr. Robert Thomas, son-in-law of Mr. A. B. Greener, has been of much help to the treasurer and to the Board, by auditing the books and making many valuable suggestions.

Mrs. Cecilia Watson

Mrs. Cecilia Watson, wife of former Superintendent James Watson, of the Washington State School for the Deaf, and for many years a teacher there, died on the eleventh of August, at Sioux Falls, S. Dak., at the age of eighty-seven. She was buried at Salem, Ore.

Mrs. Watson was loved by all the deaf who knew her, especially by her former pupils, now grown up and able to put a true estimation upon what she has meant to them.

The undersigned, who knew her intimately as a teacher and friend, and who feel they are all the better for thus having known her, wish to go on record as deeply appreciative of Mrs. Watson's whole-souled labor of love, of her motherly interest in their behalf and of her uplifting Christian influence.

Florida Flashes

Superintendents come and go, yet the great Ohio school goes on. The sudden death of Supt. J. W. Jones cast a heavy gloom on the Buckeye colony in Florida, and the fact that a successor has not been chosen already indicates a careful analysis, on the part of the educational powers that be, of the qualifications of applicants for this important post. It is pretty certain that the successor, whoever he may be, will carry out his predecessor's policies in so far as the combined system is concerned. It is unthinkable to believe that the new head will revolutionize the educational machinery as the New Jersey school officials did. The late Dr. Jones was the real friend of the real deaf, and vigorously assailed the assumption that lip-reading and lip speech could be taught them. May the combined method live long and forever!

The accession of Edwin I. Holycross to the Ohio Chronicle sanctum is hailed with acclaim, as a better selection could not be made this time. The editor is a veteran newspaperman and printer of the old school. The writer worked for him on the "Deaf World" in Columbus and later in Indianapolis and but for lack of reserve capital the paper would have continued to cover the world. His many friends wish him all the good success of which he is deserving.

Forty years with one firm is an enviable record of which any employee will feel pardonably proud. Louis J. Bacheberle has accomplished the remarkable feat, and it will stand unchallenged for ages to come. The nearest contender for the honor was the late Alfred Monnin. Loyalty to an employer is a priceless privilege and it brings to the employee an assurance of a life-time position. Mr. Bacheberle works for the love of it without any anticipation of pension or inheritance. That Cincinnati boy is entitled to a place in the hall of fame.

The marriage of Marjorie Katharine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Egle, to Samuel Clark Boggs took place Tuesday, October 21st, in Leesburg, Fla. The ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pegram, in the presence of the immediate family. Marriage vows were impressively taken in silence, the whole ceremony being performed by Frank E. Philpott, Assistant Methodist minister of St. Cloud, in the sign language of the deaf, after the bridal pair had entered the living room to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," played by the bride's niece, Miss Louise Pegram. Mr. and Mrs. Boggs left by train for their home in East Akron, O., after a visit in North and South Carolina. Mrs. Boggs is a graduate of the Florida School for the Deaf at St. Augustine, and the pearls that she wore at her wedding were a gift from ex-Governor Martin when she graduated. She also attended one year at Galaudet College in Washington, D. C. Mr. Boggs is an employee of the Goodyear Tire Company.—Leesburg correspondence to the Jacksonville Times-Union.

Miss Mary Jim Crump has been kept continuously on the jump in Winter Haven, her many lady friends having arranged in her honor miscellaneous handkerchief, silk hosiery and cosmetics showers. Miss Crump's marriage to a hearing business man is to occur shortly, and when married the popular couple will live permanently in Miami.

Robert C. Miller, for many years a valued teacher in the Morganton (S. C.) school for the deaf, and who upon his retirement was succeeded by Odie W. Underhill, formerly of the St. Augustine school faculty, will soon desert his boss in Shelby, N. C., to spend the winter in Florida. He may eventually live in the state, if his business ventures should materialize.

Deaf hitch-hikers without visible means of support are warned to stay away from Florida, unless they are provided with sufficient funds for the wherewithal of a return ticket North. The unemployment situation remains practically unchanged, and bona-fide residents will be first given employment when openings are announced. To these vagrants disregarding warnings, wood piles in many of the communities will be assigned, or else they will have to keep on moving.

Alexander W. Hermanson, general contractor, of Daytona Beach, needed a skilled cabinetmaker and wrote to the United States Census office with a request that one be recommended to him. Out of a large number, Ardine Holland was singled and he was sent for to report for work at once. He has been working full time ever since his assignment a year ago. At present his headquarters are located at Daytona Beach. He has a family, consisting of a charming wife and three bright children—two boys and one girl.

The opening service inaugurated by the Florida Mission for the Deaf was conducted in St. Cloud on Sunday, October 26th, at the Methodist Church. Owing to lack of transportation facilities, only seven deaf from out of town could be present at the service. Tampa sent Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Austin and Mrs. Thelma Boltz, while Mr. and Mrs. Ardine Holland, Mrs. Mary F. Holland and Miss Frances Hawley represented Daytona Beach. The total attendance was eleven, including the St. Cloudians.

It is a source of much regret to the deaf community of Daytona Beach to learn that Mrs. M. C. Holland suffered a stroke of paralysis while visiting in North Carolina last August. She is now resting easily in Daytona Beach, under the care of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary F. Holland, who came from Maysville Ga., to make her home with her daughter.

C. J. Schmidt is temporarily located in Orlando, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Holloway. Mr. Schmidt expects to land a job as soon as packing houses are under way of operation.

The Modern Juggernaut

Thousands of children are maimed annually by the juggernaut of tuberculosis.

Why do we permit this?

When a drunken automobile driver plows his way ruthlessly through a group of children playing in a street, the law is quick to step in and act.

Tuberculosis is just as ruthless. With no regard for social position or station, it rides over children and lays them low. Horrible it is, and still more horrible when we know that most of this loss can be prevented.

Tuberculosis can be considered a children's disease, or to put it in another way, it usually begins in childhood. From contact with those who have tuberculosis either an immunity is acquired, or the beginning of actual disease itself. If the contact is casual, infrequent and not very close, the chances are that the child will grow up infected with tuberculosis but immune to severe disease attacks. If, on the other hand, the child lives in a home where there is tuberculosis present in an older member of the family and the contact is daily and reasonably intimate, the child's immunity breaks down and disease becomes active. The child has received a series of large doses or massive infection and serious consequences are apt to follow.

Tuberculosis associations perform a valiant service at this juncture. Supported through the Christmas seal sale, these organizations teach the public how to prevent the disease, find cases in time for hope of cure, and discover contact children in homes where there is tuberculosis.

From a humanitarian and economic point of view, it is wise to save these children now. The annual Christmas seal sale gives every person an opportunity to help. The money invested will be returned in ample dividends of health.

Deaf-Mute Congress at Paris

THE DEAF of France have announced by circular letter, and in La Gazette des Sourds-Muets, that a congress of the deaf of the world will be held in Paris, France, on the occasion Universal Colonial Exposition, and invites the patronage of the deaf of all countries. The Congress will hold sessions beginning July 9th, and ending with a grand banquet on July 16th.

The Congress will concern itself with the advancement of the deaf in general—intellectual and social—and examine into their educational facilities and methods of instruction. Their mutual-ity, solidarity, physical and sportive features, will be given attention, as also their international relations.

There will be a demonstration of homage to the memory of De l'Epee, before the statue that fronts the Church of St. Louis at Versailles. After adjournment, there will be an opportunity to witness the competitions of deaf-mute athletes at Nuremberg, which is scheduled early in August.

An elaborate preparation will be made for fetes and excursions, and the program in detail will be issued later.

The committee on organization includes Henri Laufer, President; Henri Gaillard, Commissaire General; Rubens-Alcais, Secretary General; Leon Lejeune, Treasurer General; Miss Helene Detchebarne, Interpreter; Mrs. Marguerite Gaillard, Secretary.

The cost of membership in the Congress is twenty-five francs, and money orders, or bank drafts, should be sent to M. Leon Lejeune, 1 Rue Poirier, Saint Mande, (Seine) Paris, France.

As a membership entitles the holder to reductions on travel by rail, and a visit to Europe that will be made pleasant and instructive, through the aid of deaf-mute brethren who are familiar with the places and converse readily by the universal language of signs, no one who can afford to attend should miss this chance of a lifetime.

Another Gallaudet Dead

It is but a short time since the passing of Miss Virginia Butler Gallaudet, that the deaf at large will be totally unprepared for the announcement that a sister, Mrs. Sarah Gallaudet Sherman, died on Tuesday, November 4th, and on the following Thursday was buried in the Gallaudet plot of the Hartford Cemetery, where generations of the descendants of Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet, founder of the first school for the deaf in America, are laid away forever.

Mrs. Sherman had for the last couple of years been seriously sick—most of the time bed-ridden. But under the care of eminent medical practitioners and the unremitting attentions of her sister and one of her daughters, the inevitable end had been deferred.

Mrs. Sherman had not been as widely known by the deaf as her sisters, because with a family of four children, to whom she was a most devoted mother, the claims of others were naturally relegated to a minor place. Her death takes away all the immediate family of the late Rev. Dr. Thomas Gallaudet and Mrs. Gallaudet, except Dr. Bern Budd Gallaudet and Miss Elizabeth Gallaudet.

Mrs. Sherman is survived by a married daughter, Dorothy, whose home is in Paris, France; Mrs. Harry Gillen, Miss Eleanor Sherman and a son, Richard, who live in New York City—the first and last named possessing all their faculties, and the other two being deaf.

Syracuse, N. Y.

Mrs. Thomas Sarver and little daughter, of near Pittsburg, Pa., who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Houze, of Syracuse, for several weeks, have returned home.

On Sunday, October 26th, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Lipman, of Cortland, visited with the Conley and Houze families.

The social given by the Ladies' Guild, on October 25th, was a most enjoyable affair, but should have been more liberally patronized by the local deaf. Some new games were introduced by the chairman, Mrs. Stiles Woodworth, which provoked lots of fun for those present. Quite a few deaf from distant points were present, including Messrs. Verne Barnett, of Rochester; Davidson, of Auburn; Benjamin Conner, of Red Creek; Mr. Young, of somewhere up north, and one or two others.

Rev. Mr. Merrill held services in Trinity Church on October 26th, and left immediately to visit the Gallaudet Home and attend to other church business. The next service for Syracuse will be held on November 9th at 10:30 A.M.

Mrs. Glenn MacRae, nee Helen Root, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Root, of Syracuse, is head of the hosiery department in the Jay Cobbs store here and also acts as assistant to the manager. She spent several days in Rochester last week, assisting in the opening of a new store.

Among the deaf who have made a success of their business in equal competition with their more fortunate hearing brethren, are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hainline, photographers, of Elkhart, Ind. Mrs. Hainline has an equal partnership, as it is she who has helped her husband to win success. Being a product of the Rochester, N. Y., school, a fluent speaker and fine lip-reader, she can converse readily with the hearing public. They have an attractive studio, a fine home of their own, the newest in cars, and a summer home at Coldwater, Mich. What more could one ask? Mr. Hainline was educated at the Illinois school, and was formerly in partnership with Fawcner in Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sears and little daughter, Marjorie, have returned to their home in Syracuse, from a visit in Tupper Lake with relatives of Mr. Sears. Mr. Sears is a linotype operator on the Syracuse Herald.

Dr. Long Receives High Honor

Dr. J. Schuyler Long, who has previously been called to Washington as a member of President Hoover's Conference on Child Welfare, has received an engraved invitation direct from President Hoover to be present at a session of this Conference at the White House November 19 to 22. He will accept. The invitation reads as follows:-

The President of the United States invites Mr. Long to be a delegate to the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection which is to be called in the City of Washington November nineteenth to twenty-second, Nineteen hundred and thirty.—Iowa Hawkeye.

School for the Deaf to Close November 7th

Superintendent J. C. Harris, of the Georgia School for the Deaf, at Cave Spring, has announced the institution will be forced to close November 7. He says this action has been necessary on account of a notice from Governor Hardman to the Board of Trustees that only nine-tenths of the maintenance appropriated will be allowed the school for the coming year.

In order to live within the amount available, Superintendent Harris has decided to resort to a vacation of several weeks and reopen the school early in January.—Atlanta Journal.

CHICAGO

Some fifty Chicago silents journeyed to Jacksonville, to see Robey Burns' football team take it on the nose from Ed Foltz' Kansas Cyclones, 12 to 0, November 1st.

There must have been a couple of hundred returning for this annual "Homecoming Game." Ten came from Omaha, led by parliamentarian Edwin Hazel. They left Omaha at five Friday afternoon, reaching Jacksonville, 425 miles away, at seven A.M. "Autos are the greatest blessing we deaf have," said Oscar Treuke.

A bunch of kids, with band and banners, paraded the town that morning, "drumming up trade." Among some 700 spectators were Superintendent Menzemer, of Kansas; Superintendent Cloud, of Illinois, and ex-Superintendent Whipp, now serving as State superintendent of prisons.

On form, the Kansas squad figured to win handily, having beaten Iowa 53 to 0 the week prior. In the fifteen years Foltz has coached, his teams have lost but one football or basketball game to a deaf school. The highlight of Foltz's coaching career came in 1927—the last year of Johnnie Ringle, now star at Gallaudet College—when in successive weeks, Kansas beat Independence High (Mo.) 111 to 0, and St. Paul's College, Concordia, (Mo.) 192 to 7. This year's schedule of the Kansas team is a record for deaf, as they travel 3,400 miles playing the Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, Texas and Missouri schools.

The game itself saw an irresistible offense meet Burns' stonewall defense, leaving the outcome to luck. Both touchdowns came from forward passes over the goal line, with less than a minute to play at the ends of the second and fourth quarters. Illinois made eight first-downs to seven for Kansas, and completed two of their four passes for a total yardage of 50 yards, while Kansas completed four of seven passes for 45 yards.

The irony of the game lies in the fact the Kansas quarterback, "Pee-wee" Willey, was fired from Jacksonville six years ago by Col. Smith, and his parents then moved to Kansas. In strategy and team-direction, Willey had it all over the Illinois quarterback, Cecil Luck. If Willey played on the Tigers, Foltz' lads would have been decisively licked—for Burns has developed a remarkable team from green colts.

Although Foltz has lost Ringle, he has an Ingle at right half. The Kansas backs have one of the most versatile attacks ever exhibited by a deaf school, using four different systems—the double wing-back, tandem, split-back, and a spread formation.

Illinois has three men who promise to star for Gallaudet in football and track anon. Fullback Walnoha is a crack weight-man; left halfback Grady runs the 220 in 23.4; and left end Franklin does the half-mile in 2:02.

It was a combat of "iron-men," as Kansas did not make a single substitution in the line-up; and, until Burns sent in three subs late in the closing quarter, neither did Illinois.

Following the game, the pupils, under Mrs. Frederick Fawcner, served cafeteria lunch in the industrial building, and Ann McGann's Chicago troupe gave a splendid vaudeville performance in the chapel before a packed house, for the benefit of the athletic fund. In addition to pupils and "deadheads," 401 paid at the gate. Program:—

1. Greetings from Chicago David J. Padden
2. Sketch: "The Russian Immigrants" Abraham Cohen, father. Joe Wondra Isaac Cohen, son. Isadore Newman.
3. Song: "Coming Thru' the Rye" Ann McGann and Edna Carlson
4. Monolog: "Back Seat Driver" Elmer Priester
5. Song: "Dixie" Ann McGann, Edna Carlson, and ensemble
6. Intermission: Addresses by Superintendent Cloud and others.
7. Drama: "In Old Virginia" Virginia Her Mother Fannie Meinken Overseer Simon Legree Elmer Priester Topsy, Uncle Tom, Amos and Andy (slaves) Edna Carlson, Jim Meagher, Joe Wondra and Izzy Newman Musical accompaniment by I. S. D. band, led by Frederick Fawcner
8. Dramatic rendition, with hand accompaniment: "The Lone Eagle" Elmer Priester
9. Lecture: "Planetariumlore" by "Prof. Douglas Craig, Jr., M.M., Ph.D., L.L.D., B.V.D." (Jim Meagher and Ann McGann)
10. Declamatory Song: "Casey at the Bat" Owen Study, of Omaha

The three-hour program was well received, and proved a pleasing climax to a delightful day. There was some double-crossing by the actors and actresses at the expense of each other, and brought out several laughable situations. One was the unrehearsed and unexpected firing of a real gun in "Dixie," close to the silk-clad legs of Ann McGann. Whether from fright, or from powder-burn, Ann hopped around in convincing fashion. Joe Wondra ably upheld his end as the end as the star comedian of Deafdom.

November 2d, Mrs. Meagher and her troupe gave an appreciated entertainment before the Chicago League of Hebrew Deaf, thereby proving this town has dramatic talent to burn. Program:—

- Song: "Dixie" Myrtle Nelson and Emma Maser
Story: "Curiosity Killed a Man" Mae Strandberg
Song: "Young Lochinvar" Frieda Meagher
Dexterious Delight: "Dancing Dolls" Myrtle Nelson
Mystery Thriller: "Murder" Frieda Meagher
Song: "Auld Lang Syne" Myrtle Nelson

This was followed by a feed, and sixteen tables of cards.

The regular monthly feed of the M. E. flock, October 29th, saw some fifty diners, wet weather keeping many away. Mrs. Meagher served "the newest in meat"—boneless rolled-pork roast and beef. Following the feed, a two-hour program was given—personal recollections of the Buffalo convention. Among those speaking were Anna Schaffer, Justice Beattag, Mrs. Hasenstab, C. Sharpnack, Mrs. Meagher, the Rev. Hasenstab and ex-president Roberts. Mrs. Meinken related her visit to the Hollywood studios and her meeting with the late Lon Chaney. The gathering lasted nearly two hours.

Deaf people, numbering about 250, gathered at the M. E. Mission Sunday afternoon, November 2d, and listened to an interesting sermon by Rev. J. W. Michaels, the Baptist pastor from Arkansas. Among out-of-town visitors were some deaf-mutes from Kentucky; one from Buffalo, N. Y., and others from Wisconsin. After the close of the service, Rev. Michaels had the pleasure of meeting those who knew him. Rev. Michaels' lecture was largely attended at the Pas-a-Pas Hall in the evening of the same day.

There are many jobless deaf-mutes with no money, needing some relief. The deaf clubs and churches do something to aid the needy among the deaf here. People from other places are advised not to come here and seek jobs, as it is impossible to find them.

Coach Neesam will take his football team to Jacksonville, Ill., Saturday, November 15th, to play Coach Burns' team.

The Illinois deaf school team will leave for the Missouri school Saturday, November 22d, to play Lahn's team, that may outplay the Illinois team, for it has already won victories over the local teams in every game.

Rev. Flick's Woman's Guild has been meeting every Wednesday for some time. Mesdames Meehan, Flick, Sprague, Witte and Dougherty, were hostesses at their homes, instead of his church.

Rev. Flick was in Cincinnati amongst his kin-folks for two days, and in Columbus, O., for the annual meeting of the Board of Managers of the Ohio Home for Aged and Infirm Deaf, during the second week of October. The Home is in a splendid condition, with forty-one inmates.

Don't forget to come to the bazaar, at Rev. Flick's church, and don't forget the change of the date, which is Wednesday, November 19th.

This year Rev. Flick will not have the Thanksgiving dinner in the way it has been served for the past eighteen years.

Rev. Flick will depart for Peoria, Ill., November 14th, to conduct services for the deaf. He goes to Springfield November 16th, at 11 A.M., and preaches at the Jacksonville school at 2:30 P.M., and at Trinity Church in that city at 7:30 P.M., the same day. Rev. Flick wants to inform his deaf people in Springfield to attend his service at St. John's Church, N. Grand Avenue and Fifth Street, instead of Christ Church. He will be at the new church November 16th, at 11 A.M.

The Pas-a-Pas Club had a big Halloween party at its club hall Friday, October 31st, with a large attendance. A monthly business meeting was held the next day.

Mrs. Grace Hasenstab Haskell, who bought a bungalow in Ivanhoe, Ill., twenty miles south of Chicago, last month, moved into it two weeks ago. A Halloween social was held by Epworth League at the M. E. Headquarters Saturday, November 1st, and was well attended.

Rev. Hasenstab had a preaching service and communion at LaPorte, Ind., Sunday, October 26th.

WISCONSIN NOTES

According to a recent report, the sum of $35,000 has been released by Governor Kohler, of Wisconsin, for the construction of a dormitory for small boys at the Wisconsin deaf school.

Theodore Gilbert, aged fifty-nine, and twenty-five years, head engineer at the Wisconsin deaf school, died last Saturday of heart failure. The news of his death was received with deep sorrow by the Institution family and his friends in Delavan.

Not Deaf and Dumb

BUT CLEVER COP WITH EDUCATED HANDS LOCKED HIM UP.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (A.P.)—Police-man George Willhoft had a cold last winter. It was so bad he was speechless for three weeks, during which time he learned the one-hand deaf-mute alphabet.

Yesterday, a man with a pad and pencil in his hand, knocked at his door and handed him a note which read:

"I am deaf and dumb. Can you help me?"

Willhoft gesticulated rapidly on his fingers. The beggar smiled. So did the policeman as he donned his cap and uniform and escorted the mendicant to the station, where he was identified as August Fleming, an ex-convict.

"How did you guess?" asked Fleming.

"Easy," the officer replied. "I called you a liar and you smiled.—N. Y. World.

OMAHA

At the regular Frat meeting, Saturday night, October 11th, seven novices were initiated. The billy goat was a burly, sprightly fellow. The poor novices had to tread over the hot sands one by one. They thought the world was coming to an end, but were well-rewarded near midnight, and became full-fledged Frats. They were the guests of honor of some twenty brethren at a jolly supper at Straub's Restaurant. They were Brothers John Reed, of Lincoln, Neb.; Charles Vitamvas, of Linwood, Neb.; Chas. Marshall, Charles Hitshaw, Victor Beran, Francis Milana, and C. Millard Bilger. Brother John Chowins, of Lincoln, was also one of the guests. Brother Oscar M. Treuke was chairman of the committee, assisted by Brothers Edwin M. Hazel, Riley E. Anthony, Robert W. Mullin and Nick Peterson.

The Lincoln Silent Club held a meeting at the Will Sabin home on October 11th. Several games were played, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Haurigan, of Fremont, Neb., treated the club to some of his famous watermelons and gave each one a cantaloupe to take home.

Omaha Division, No. 32, held an autumn festival at Elks Hall in Lincoln, Saturday, October 18th. It was managed by Ziba L. Osmun and M. Scott Cuscaden, ably assisted by a local committee consisting of Messrs. Reed, Chowins, Thomson and Burlew. A white elephant sale was held in the afternoon, and speeches were made by officers of the Omaha Division. The first door prize, a handsome electric clock, was won by Mrs. Mine Jensen Laursen, and the second, a desk pen set, by Mrs. Lottie Taylor, who is employed at Orchard and Wilhelm's with Mrs. Osmun. Miss Della Page won another desk pen set in a popularity contest, with votes selling at one cent each. About 150 attended the festival, several auto loads going from Omaha and Council Bluffs. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haller and three children of Gordon, Neb., made a 500-mile trip to Lincoln in their car. Mr. Haller had not seen his friends for twenty years. John Belgun came from Petersburg, Colorado. Leslie H. Allison drove down from Seneca, Kansas, and several drove from Sioux City, Iowa. A large number stayed over night and visited the capitol, penitentiary, and school for feeble minded. Supper was served in a well-appointed cafeteria, with Mr. John Chowins in charge. She was assisted by Mesdames Reed and Burlew and Miss Kate Babcock. The deaf of Lincoln deserve a lot of credit for the way they put things over, and chairman Z. L. Osmun has quite a sum to show for his work in engineering the affair. Misses Mary Smrha and Johanna Stillahan visited in Lincoln for several days after the festival.

Walter Zabel, of Western, Neb., made an extended trip to Wyoming and Colorado, attended the festival in Lincoln and visited in Omaha, remaining for the Iowa-Kansas game.

The Iowa school football team took a beating from the Kansas School football team on the Iowa School grounds, Saturday, October 25th. The heavy Jayhawkers piled up a score of 53 to 0 against the light and inexperienced Iowa team. Coach Foltz's boys played a fast, beautiful game and were wonderful at interference. They have won seven victories out of eight games played this season. Supt. Menzemer came along and also a number of interested teachers and pupils. Among the teachers we noted were Mr. Dold, Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. Foltz, Mrs. Comp and Miss Evelyn Comp. Quite a crowd from Council Bluffs and Omaha was there. In the evening, Council Bluffs Division, No. 103, gave a Halloween party at the Knights of Columbus Hall. A good number from Omaha was there and most of the Kansas crowd. Dr. J. Schuyler Long won a twelve and half pound live goose for guessing its weight correctly. Abe Rosenblatt was a close second. Boxes of candy and cigars and two dozen live chickens were sold in a rushing business. The balloon dance caused much excitement and amusement. Apples, doughnuts and coffee were served.

Tom L. Anderson won a prize in a recent contest that was sponsored by Council Bluffs merchants. His essay on the benefits of natural gas was given twenty-seventh place in a list fifty successful contestants.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Seley and Miss Della Page entertained at the Seley home near Council Bluffs, Monday evening, October 27th. There were fifteen present and a number of games were enjoyed, at which Miss Nettie Paulus won a picture of the Grand Canal of Venice. Mrs. Gerald Osborne won a live chicken and a decorative doll, George L. Revers a pair of fancy owls, and Abe Rosenblatt a handkerchief.

The Fontenelle Literary Society held its October meeting on Friday evening the 24th. Two very interesting papers were read. The first by Edwin M. Hazel, President of the Lid, had for its subject

"Cancer," and the second by Owen Study, the vice-president, was about "Fate." He gave some interesting examples like, "Gamblers call it Lady Luck; business men, chance; those who get killed, Kismet," etc. Mr. Study's middle name is "Ambitions." An unusually small crowd was present, which is regrettable, considering the quality of the entertainment for that evening.

T. Scott Cuscaden had planned to make the trip to Jackson, Illinois, to attend the Kansas-Illinois school football game, Saturday, November 1st, but gave it up on receiving a telegram informing him and Mrs. Cuscaden of the death of her sister, Mrs. Ethel Sugden, at Edgar, Nebraska. They left early Friday morning to attend the funeral. They have our sympathy.

Refreshments wound up the affair. The following clipping was found in an Omaha paper:—

Morocco, Oct. 25.—Mohammed el Rhzmani, deaf and dumb, was knocked down by a car in Morocco. He was so surprised that he started to curse the driver, but when he found that he had recovered his speech through the accident, he kissed him.

Their names are Diamond, Bond, Reed and Brady.

OBITUARY

ABRAHAM RABOFF

The passing away of Abraham Raboff was a surprise and shock. He died on November 3d, following an operation. He was only twenty-nine years old. Since his loss of hearing about seven years ago, he was much interested in deaf circles. He could talk well by sign language, and was a member of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League and Hebrew Association of the Deaf. He was an active member of the H. A. D., as chairman of membership campaign in 1929-30, and was one of the staunchest fighters of all deafdom. He wrote to Senator Wagner, Congressman LaGuardia, and Postmaster Furin, of Brooklyn, that the deaf-mutes should be able to work in the post office, and they did help him.

GALLAUDET COLLEGE

By Andy Mack and Alice McGunn

King Winter has gripped Gallaudet in the palm of his hand, and the usual epidemic of "head colds" and running noses" has arrived. Students by the score are coughing.

Lee Lewis, who re-entered college after having been out of school for five years, has resigned. Those five years in the work-a-day world, during which time he was not forced to study daily lessons, left their mark on this manly lad. Today, possessed of a restless spirit, Lewis feels that it is better for him to resume work than remain in college. He is now working as a linotype operator for the Evening Star, and expects to remain in this town at least until next year. This unfortunate resignation has lost the class of '33 a fine, upstanding young man.

On these late winter days the Co-eds are preparing to stage the annual O. W. L. S. play, which will be given in Chapel Hall at 8 o'clock on the night of November 28th. "Zaraguetta" is the name of the current play being produced. Long hours of intensive practice during the afternoon has been under way for some time. Proper costumes, too, are being made by the girls themselves.

Leaves! They fall off the trees and fly into our rooms. Leaves! They stray to far corners and elude our brooms. Aye! Leaves, the curse of the housekeeper, have been coming off the trees while Nature has been undergoing the beautifying process as administered by Doctor Winter.

Another alumnus seems to be making good. Hear ye, ye knockers of Gallaudet! Anthony A. Hajna, '30, who has been a special student in the Johns Hopkins Graduate School of Hygiene, has higher plans in his mind. Today he is enrolled, not as a special student, but as a candidate for the degree of Master of Science in Hygiene, studying Bacteriology and the following subordinate subjects: Helminthology, Protozoology, Malariology, Immunology, and Chemical Hygiene. Look up these terms in the dictionary, dear reader. His course of study is expected to cover at least two years, and he may be permitted to study further if his work is good.

Hajna, to those who have met him, is one of the most ambitious graduates the college has ever had. Clean cut, manly and a gentleman in every sense of the word, he has always been pointing to the present outlook—a Master's degree. His many friends scattered over the country will no doubt express surprise that he has been admitted to Johns Hopkins Graduate School, the highest medical school of its kind in the world. Students enrolled there speak every language under the sun and are from every land on the globe. An atmosphere that breathes of cosmopolitanity prevails everywhere, as students pursue the same studies but with no common language between them. A Hindu working next to a Swede, neither being able to speak English proficiently, but both are experts in the same department of science in their own way. That is what the Johns Hopkins' student body consists.

Proof that education trains the mind as well as the body, is the conclusion drawn from the Senior-Sophomore girls' baseball game, in which the upper class girls won by a 7-6 score. Playing on a cold day, this battle was the warmest of the year. By the time the game was over, everyone was confident that the coal man was not required to fill the furnace.

Playing with frozen fingers, maybe "butterfingers," the Preps were surprised by the strong Kendall School girls to the tune of 23 to 3. It was that bad, the Preps evidently had left their batting eyes with their books, for they failed to do anything with the Kendall pitcher's offerings. On these cold days, baseball is just the thing with which to warm up ones system.

One of the finest programs of the year was rendered by the Literary Society's public meeting last Friday night. With President Percival Hall giving a simplified talk on "Unemployment," a simple outline on the reasons why unemployment exists and how it is best remedied, the audience today understands what all the newspapers are talking about. Dr. Hall stressed one point in the remedy and that was the "Buy now" campaign. By buying now you will put more money in circulation. If you pay your rent, the landlord will pay the gas company, the gas company will pay off its mortgage interest to the bank, the bank will place the surplus in the stockholders' portion of dividends, the stockholders will have money to buy groceries; the grocer will pay off his bills and buy more groceries—you see that money in circulation moves in a cycle.

Two Preps from the wheat-growing country of Minnesota, Messrs. Svend Syenningsen and Arthur Cyst, in a dialogue calling themselves "Amos 'n Andy," carried off high honors for pure laugh provoking. This pair, roommates at that, are becoming good signers and future programs will no doubt see their names again included. "Ready" Gamblin's declamation, "The Puzzled Census Taker," in which one of Uncle Sam's population counters encounters a child, was very humorous.

Miss Edith Nelson, as critic, much to the surprise of all, instead of indulging in her pet hobby of scoring mistakes, praised everything and everyone, beside "cracking" a few jokes of her own. Judges for the debate included Dr. Hall, Walter J. Krug and Miss Edith Nelson. Dancing in boys' refectory followed at the conclusion of the meeting.

In a heated debate filled with true and also absurd points, the Senior team triumphed over the Juniors on the question: Resolved, that a thirteen month calendar should be substituted for the present one. Upholding the affirmative, Messrs. Kaple Greenberg and Max Friedman represented the Seniors. Messrs. Alan Crammate and John O'Brien, the Juniors, took the negative side of the question and gave a good account of themselves. So hotly discussed was this question that a rebuttal was necessary. To the superstitious it is enough to say that one point contended was that in a thirteen calendar year there would be thirteen months and most of them with thirteen coming on Friday.

Now the Seniors, as winners of this debate, will meet the Freshmen, who had previously defeated the Sophomores for the debating championship of the college.

Goblins, witches, and devils, held sway after the football game last Saturday evening, in the Hallowe'en masquerade dance held in the gymnasium. Costumes of all kinds were the order of the night, and the judges had a merry time determining the winners. Dancing, games, and all things that go to make up a good time for the younger generation prevailed, until Dean Peet's shrill call to hie for home and bed. Prizes for the best costume for girls was won by Florence Bridges, '34. Mr. Canon, a Normal from Mississippi, carried off top honors for boys. He dressed up like a "five-year-old" in shorts and an "all day sucker in his mouth." Ruth Fish, '31, as the stout and very short old blackface gentlemen familiar around race tracks, carried off third place.

"Chet" Dobson, '31, with an original costume consisting of strips of old newspapers and a borrowed shirt to represent an African savage, was awarded fourth prize, and Gerald Adler, Prep Class, as Sherlock Holmes in search of clues, won fifth prize. In the original costume class the "messengers from Mars," Bob Travis and "Woodrow" Wilson Grabill, '34, took the prize between them, a pack of playing cards. Exactly how they will divide this prize is still a mystery. Prof. Harley D. Drake, Miss Edith Nelson and Miss Elizabeth Benson, were the judges for the evening.

Mr. Eugene Wait, of the Missouri School, now employed as supervisor at Overlea School for the Deaf near Baltimore, spent the week-end at the college in company with his former schoolmate, Franklin Hyler, Prep Class.

Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. the Girls' Y. W. C. A. held their regular meeting in Fowler Hall, with the following program: Address by Miss Edith Nelson, a hymn by Lucille Bowyer, '31, and the Twenty-third Psalm rendered by May Koehn, '33, and Juanita Vaughn, '34. During the coming week the Girls' Y. W. C. A. will take part in the week of prayer and World Fellowship Meetings, which will be held at noon daily. Short appropriate programs will be given every noon between 12:15 and 12:30.

Old pupils of the North Carolina school of ten years ago will no doubt recall a certain Miss Spruitt, teacher of the third grade. At Carlisle last week, after the football game the boys were amazed to see a dignified major industriously engaged in spelling to a group of players. Further inquiry revealed him to be Major C. B. Spruitt, whose sister was connected with the North Carolina school before her marriage. Ray Sherrill, one of the Carolina boys, who happened to be at Carlisle, distinctly remembered Miss Spruitt, much to the interest of the Major.

In a game marred by frequent fumbles and penalties, the Blues triumphed over Shepherd College on Hotchkiss Field last Saturday by a 13-0 score. This was the third consecutive win on the home field against the West Virginia team.

Led by "Rabbit" Ringle, the big Blue fullback, the Kendall Greeners had the better part of the breaks in their favor.

Hardly had the game gotten under way when the Blues chalked up seven points. Following Ringle's kickoff the Shepherd boys tried two line plays to no avail, and on the third play Main fumbled on his own eleven-yard line, the Blues recovering. On the next play "Shorty" Hokanson toted the ball the remaining six yards off tackle for a touchdown. With his trusty right foot "Shorty" added the extra point from placement.

Angered by this "break," the visitors put on a fancy and powerful offensive of their own immediately after the kickoff. Making a stand on their own 15-yard line, Shepherd took the ball and advanced it to the Blues' four-yard stripe, where they were held on downs.

With a stiff wind blowing, punting was for gains by only the team having the wind with it. Fumbles caused by the intense cold and chill kept both teams trying to outfumble the other. Penalties too, especially for holding, were very frequent. Both teams lost several chances to start a scoring drive by being penalized at a critical moment.

In the second period, the visitors started their high-powered offensive again when they got the ball on the Blues' 12-yard line, after Ringle's punt against the wind gained practically nothing. A pass, Hough to Daily, put the ball on the Blues' 2-yard line stripe, where a stubborn line held repeatedly and staved off a possible score. All of this time the playing of "Mule" Murdahan, Ken Burdette, "Sturdy" Wadaghan, and Heimo Antila were the main factors that kept Shepherd in check on the defense. Al Marshall, playing his first game since incurring a severe shoulder injury, showed some of his old-time prowess, evorting through the line like a truck load of bricks, hitting hard and timely. This is Marshall's last year, but injuries have robbed him of a chance to close his career in a burst of glory.

It remained for "Rabbit" Ringle to make the chilly fans rise to their feet and warm themselves in the second half. Following Shepherd's kickoff several plays gained yardage. Taking the ball on his own 25-yard line Ringle went off tackle through the line, between the secondary defence straight-arming the safety man, galloped the 75 yards to a touchdown. Ringle's feat is all the more outstanding, considering the fact that he accomplished this without the aid of interference. It certainly gave the chilly fans a feeling of elation to see object of their pride rise to unknown heights. A bad pass from center prevented any attempt to convert the touchdown.

Ringle tried a field goal from placement from the 18-yard line in the third period after this long jaunt, but with a stiff wind against him, the attempt was wide.

Starting a movement to score again, the Blues had the ball on the visitors' 5-yard stripe, when the whistle announced the end.

During the course of the afternoon, Gallaudet outgained Shepherd thirteen first downs to eight, while in the forward passing department the visitors attempted many more than Coach Hughes' charges, but completed less.

Captain Paul Zieske, playing in his same cold weather prevailing in his native Michigan, was himself, and his fast end runs brought the crowd to their feet time after time. Shifting his hips like a snake, dodging and weaving his way through a broken field, "Zee" had one of the best days of the year.

Credit ought to be given to the whole team, it was team work that brought them victory, and as a whole team, they worked together, striving to do their best for their college, and as a team we honor them.

Next Saturday the Blues will travel to Langley, Va., near Norfolk, to play the Langley Field Aviators.

The following Friday night, November 21st, the Blues close the season at Johnstown, Pa., in a night game against St. Francis College. To date they have won four games, lost one, and tied one.

ST. ANN'S CHURCH NEWS

Sunday, November 2d, was Memorial Sunday at St. Ann's Church for the Deaf. Thanks to numerous contributions from individuals and the various church organizations, there were flowers aplenty to decorate the sanctuary of the church. The Vicar, the Rev. Guilbert C. Braddock, preached the Memorial Sermon on the subject of Life after Death. The choir, composed of Mrs. William Burke, leader, and Mesdames Karus, Diekmann and McCarthy, added to the beauty of the service by singing several hymns. Messrs. Melvin Ruthven and Perry Schwing assisted as reader and crucifer. During the service, a new altar book, bound in red leather, was dedicated for use in St. Ann's Church. The book is a gift from Mrs. Kate H. Jones and her daughter, Ethel, and is a memorial to the late William G. Jones, former lay-reader of St. Ann's Church.

After the service, a portrait of the late Virginia Butler Gallaudet was unveiled, in the Assembly Room of St. Ann's. The portrait, which is an enlargement, was skillfully made by Alexander L. Pach, and is very characteristic of Miss Gallaudet. It was presented to St. Ann's Church by V. B. G. A. Miss Ione Dibble, president of the V. B. G. A., made the speech of presentation. The unveiling was done by Betty, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Gillen, and a grandniece of Miss Gallaudet. In the ceremony of unveiling, the choir rendered "For all the saints who from their labours rest," a favorite hymn of Miss Gallaudet, and prayers were offered by the Vicar.

It was announced during the Memorial Service that the Woman's Parish Aid Society of St. Ann's had started general subscriptions toward a memorial reeders for the church, in memory of Virginia B. Gallaudet. It will be some time before the full sum necessary is contributed, but it is hoped to have it realized before November, 1931. It will be a general memorial, in which all the deaf who knew Miss Gallaudet are invited to participate.

The Hallowe'en party which was held at St. Ann's Church for the Deaf on Thursday evening, October 30th, was a success socially and financially. A profit of slightly over forty dollars resulted from the night's merriment. Messrs. Edmund Hicks, Melvin Ruthven, Frederick Parker, Charles Fitzpatrick and Charles Terry constituted a committee on games, which kept the many young people amused. Prizes were awarded as follows:—

Aeroplane Race.—Mr. Fred Gabay and Miss I. Goedeau.

Balloon Race.—Mr. G. Angelo and Miss Jessie Casterline.

Women's Hop Race.—Miss Anna Rohling, Mrs. P. Prevete and Miss L. Goedeau.

Men's Hop Race.—Messrs. Milton Koplowitz, Pat Prevete and Leo Port.

Music for dancing was furnished by a band composed of Leo Port, Ernest Marshall and Herbert Koblenz. A committee headed by Mrs. Isabelle S. Fossire sold coffee, cider, cake and pumpkin pie, in the tea-room. Apples were given away to all present. Other assistance was given to the committee by Misses Mabel Hall and Myra L. Barrager, and Messrs. James Garrick and Spencer Hoag. The proceeds of the entertainment go to the Thanksgiving Fund of St. Ann's Church.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mr. Owen Coyne, led by his beautiful wife into Mrs. M. Hayden's home, was surprised to see his brother, sister-in-law, and many friends, on November 1st, at 8:30 p.m. He was delighted to meet his old classmates from the Trenton school. A magnificent supper was given, one large cake with one row of four candles and a second row of two ones. After the feast, many useful presents were given to Mr. O. Coyne. The guests who attended:—

The bazaar held recently in St. Francis Xavier's College, 30 West 16th Street, for the benefit of the church and school, was a success, notwithstanding the hard times. One of the ten booths was in charge of the New York Catholic Deaf-Mute Center, with Miss Emily M. Hopping as chairman. Miss Hopping was ably assisted by a wonderful committee. They deserve great credit for their generous and active service. The President of the College, Rev. F. X. Delany, S.J., Rev. E. Duffy, S.J., general chairman of the bazaar, and Rev. M. A. Purcell, S.J., were well satisfied and pleased with the work done by the deaf. Their booth received many donations. They were remembered by Governor Roosevelt and ex-Governor Smith.

DEAF-MUTES' UNION LEAGUE

On the 8th inst., in the Union League Hall, the Literary Committee held perhaps the best entertainment of the season.

President Jack Ebin was absent, having gone to Boston, Mass., where on the morning, Sunday, the 9th, he was married to one of the Hub's fairest, Miss Catherine Doren. Congratulations are extended to them. May their union be a happy one!

Mr. Max Lubin presided. There was a contest for cash prizes by those present. First it was to find out who could tell what the best news of the month was, which the daily papers contained on front pages every day. Mr. Alfred Ederheimer was declared the winner. He said it was "The Unemployment Problem."

The next was "Best Recollection of Armistice Day." The winner was Mr. Francis W. Nuboor, who declared that Wilson's "Fourteen Points" where the best.

The movie show was then enjoyed by all. It included "Animated Cartoons," "The Gate Crasher," and "The Best Man." After the show an enjoyable social hour was enjoyed in the hall.

The next great event by the League will be the Barn Dance on Saturday evening, November 26th. There will be plenty prizes offered at this affair, including two fat turkeys for Thanksgiving, and refreshments will be free.

It has been decided at the last regular meeting to hold the forty-fifth anniversary celebration of the founding of the organization on Sunday, January 4th, 1931, as no suitable place to meet the requirements could be secured on the 3d of January, the date the organization was started.

H. A. D.

This Sunday afternoon, November 16th, at 2:30 p.m., the H. A. D. will hold its monthly business meeting at the Community Centre, 210 West 91st Street. The chief object will be nomination for officers.

During the evening, several interesting films will be exhibited. With the addition of another movie machine, it is expected to speed up screen projection, so as to bring our shows up to a par with professional houses.

Please remember our Barn Dance, to be held under auspices of the Entertainment Committee next Saturday evening, November 22d, 8 p.m.

Last and not least, come to our Two-Day Bazaar, Saturday and Sunday, December 6th and 7th. See adv. in this issue of the JOURNAL.

BROOKLYN H. S. D.

On Friday evening, October 31st, Dr. Harris Taylor, Principal of the New York Institution for the Improved Instruction of Deaf-Mutes, and President of the National Society of the Deaf, addressed an audience of over one hundred persons at the Heber Educational Society Building at Hopkins and Sutter Avenues, Brooklyn. Dr. Taylor was the dinner guest of the home of Mrs. John Smith, the Chairman of the Committee on Deaf of the Council of Jewish Women, Brooklyn Section.

The Committee, through the efforts of Mrs. Nathan Mandel, was able to secure from Mr. M. Kleinermann, of the Exhibitors' Film Exchange, a series of silent motion picture exhibitions for the coming year. The first presentation was on Sunday, November 9th, 1930, at 8 p.m. The presentations will consist of a news reel, a comedy, and a feature. A capacity attendance is desired at these presentations, as that is the only way to prove to Mr. Kleinermann that his efforts are appreciated.

Over in Brooklyn on Saturday evening, November 1st, the members of Division 23, were holding their monthly meeting, with nominations for officers as the main event of the evening. It seemed a well settled fact that the division, to a man wanted John Stigliaboviti to serve as their President for a second term, and thrice they offered the kingly crown to the big fellow, only to have it turned down, and when they made him give a valid reason, he explained that as the other presidents had served without remuneration, he did not want the presidency if a salary went with it. Finally it was shown to him that there was no law to prevent him from giving the salary to charity, the Brooklyn "Big Boy" had to give in, and as he has no opponent he will serve No. 23 for another year. It was a most unusual situation, that of refusing an office because it carried a salary. Generally the shoe is on the other foot.

On Sunday, November 9th, an informal party was given in honor of Mr. Sol. E. Pachter's fiftieth birthday at his home by his wife. A lovely time was had by all. Among those present were Misses Elizabeth Pachter, Rose Pachter, Mr. Elias Pachter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Krassner, Mr. and Mrs. A. Marcus (nee Safran), and daughter; Mrs. Isidor Feder, Misses Fannie Feder, Bessie Levy, Rebecca Israel, Rose Polinsky, Messrs. William K. Farnham, Milton Cassell, and, last but not least, Mr. and Mrs. Sol. E. Pachter.

Last week Benjamin Friedwald took himself to the National Capital. A post-card from him hath it that he had a good time.

On Saturday, November 1st, Prof. Odie W. Underhill, chief aide to Dr. Goodwin, of the Faculty of the North Carolina School for the Deaf, was one of the interested spectators at the West Point vs. North Dakota football game, though his son, James, of the third class at the Military Academy, has been kept off the football team by an injury to his knee which will keep him out of the line during the present season. Mr. Underhill remained at West Point till Monday morning when he came to New York for a little visiting around and then rush off for home to enable him to vote on Tuesday. His train was met at Washington by the three North Carolina students at Gallaudet College, who enjoyed a brief chat with their former instructor during the train's stay in the Washington Union Station. Prof. and Mrs. Underhill plan to spend the Christmas holidays at the Thayer Hotel, West Point, to enable them to enjoy the festal days with their son.

On Saturday, November 1st, the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kurz surprised them with a banquet at the Boulevard Pastry Shoppe, the Bronx. It was the couple's tenth wedding anniversary, and the event was fittingly observed.

There were fifty-four guests seated when the couple were ushered in, and after congratulating them the feast began.

During the speeches a check for fifty dollars was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Kurz, and they just managed to say "Thank you," as they were so dazed they could not say much more.

Cards were played the rest of the evening, for which prizes were awarded to the following winners:—

For "$500"—Joe Weisman, Mrs. G. Solomon, Mrs. A. Stein, Mrs. C. Gold, Mrs. J. Peters, Mr. S. Stern, of Philadelphia, Pa., Mrs. H. Schulman.

For Whist.—Miss L. Bolchman and Mr. L. Hatowsky.

Mrs. Marietta Rodrigo, of Flatbush, died October 27th, of cancer, in the seventy-ninth year of age. She was a faithful member of Brooklyn Guild for Deaf-Mutes. The funeral was held at Fairchild's Parlors, 86 Lefferts Place, Brooklyn, on the morning of October 29th. The Rev. Guilbert C. Braddock officiated. Interment was in National Cemetery.

Mrs. E. Auerbach and several friends tendered a surprise party in honor of Mr. Jacob Landau. Mr. Landau is fifty years old, and still looking quite young. Among the many presents received was a beautiful gold watch and fountain pen. Mr. Jacob Landau, being a bachelor, was made very happy by this event. There were thirty people present.

Among the happy reminiscences, the past November 1st will be a day long remembered in the life of Anna Jacobs. Many guests assembled that night at the surprise miscellaneous shower given for Anna by her old friend, Mrs. A. Hymes. It was delightful to watch the look of astonishment on her face, as she opened the door and saw the array of friends staring at her. The party proved to be a success, and many lovely gifts were showered on the bride-to-be. Refreshments were served. Anna expects to be married to Leopold Frey in the very near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Najeeb Lutfy announce the marriage of their daughter, Lilian, to Mr. Michael H. Hamra, on October 18th, 1930, at the church of the Virgin Mary. The couple are now settled at 488 Fourteenth Street, Brooklyn N. Y., and will be glad to have their friends call on them.

The University of Pennsylvania and Notre Dame football game last Saturday at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, Pa., attracted four deaf-mutes from New York, namely, Edward Kerwin, John Kostyk, Herbert Carroll and David Retzker.

Miss Florence Stamm is going to Pittsburgh, Pa., to the home of Mr. Samuel Rogalsky, with her father, this Saturday, November 15th. Mr. Stamm may return the next day, but Miss Stamm will stay in Pittsburgh for three or four weeks.

Mrs. Hunt, whose home is in Paris, France, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary L. Haight, and expects to remain for about three months. Mrs. Hunt is an amateur sculptress of talent and has created many studies that elicited praise from connoisseurs of that especially difficult art.

After three months as a visitor with relatives in New Jersey, Ethel Collins returned to her home in Barnegat this week.

A football game between the alumni and the team representing St. Joseph's Institution, played on Sunday, November 9th, resulted in a victory for the Alumni, by the score of 13 to 6.

A bridge whist and euchre, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Institution, was given at Hotel Delmonico, Park Avenue and 50th Street, on Saturday afternoon, November 8th.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. Jack M. Ebin and Miss Catherine I. Doren, who were quietly married at Boston, Mass., last Sunday afternoon, November 9th.

Rev. and Mrs. H. Lorraine Tracy returned home from West Virginia in time for Communion Service, November 2d. The pastor rendered the 100th Psalm, after he read St. Matthew 22d chapter, 1st verse, he signed the Ten Commandments, and the Congregation joined him. In closing he repeated "Let our prayers be prepared." While in Romney, West Va., they were the guests of the West Virginia School for the Deaf. The pastor stated that all the deaf living in West Virginia and nearby were well and prosperous.

In Carlisle, Pa., Saturday, November 1st, Gallaudet College gradmen battled the Carlisle Army Medical School eleven to a scoreless tie before a record crowd. The papers said:—

"The visitors fought valiantly to gain nine first downs against the Medicos' five. Led by Ringle, the Capital City lads carried the scrimmage line from the 81-yard line during the first frame for five consecutive first downs, but when they reached the 12-yard stripe the Soldiers' forward wall became impregnable. The ball was carried from one end of the field to the other during the entire first half, with Nowe and Simmons starring for the Medicos and Ringle and Williams for the visitors.

The second half opened with Ringle receiving the kick-off and forcing off a long run of 25 yards, but a holding penalty nullified any attempt to score. Both teams opened a desperate serial attack in the last frame. Hunt, the Soldiers' quarterback, sent the leather bullet through the air to Haas, Woods and White for three long runs, but the Gallaudet forward wall penetrated in nearly every attempt. Zieske, Gallaudet captain, intercepted a long pass in midfield during the closing minutes, but again the Kendall Green passes failed to threaten. The featuring plays of the visitors were evenly divided between Zieske, Sperill and Williams, but Ringle was easily the star of the first.

On the Carlisle team, Woods, Closinski, Hunt and Nowe shared the honors, but the plays of White, heretofore a substitute end, helped keep the visitors scoreless."

Mr. H. N. Lowry, of 3321 R Street, N. W., who went to Europe last April has returned home. He stated that the life in England is not as bright as this country.

Mrs. Parley Ellers attended the Baptist Church Sunday, November 2d. She and her children are now living in the Capital City, located at 1234 Massachusetts Avenue, N. W. Mr. Ellers is still holding his territory in West Virginia, and parts of Ohio and Pennsylvania, as traveling salesman for an auto accessory company.

DEAF-DUMB COUPLE UNITED IN MARRIAGE

SPRINGFIELD, MO., Nov. 5.—A marriage, wordless as far as speech was concerned, the participants writing the questions and answers, was performed in the courthouse here.

The bride and groom, Lettie Burge, twenty-four, and T. Roy Wright, twenty-three, are both deaf and dumb. Their romance started while they were classmates in the school for deaf and dumb students at Fulton, Mo.

Some prominent deaf here are planning to take a trip to New York City in a new huge coach which has been placed in service between Washington, D. C., and New York this month by the People's Rapid Transit Line. The bus is equipped with running water, etc., and a steward is to accompany it on each trip.

Miniature golf fans will not be forced to give up their game, because of the approach of winter, and the closing of the out-of-door courses. Store buildings are being outfitted in various sections of the city, and miniature golf promises to give bowling a fast run in competition during the cold season.

SEATTLE

Dr. Hanson spent the week-end at Vancouver and Portland. He arrived in Vancouver the afternoon of the 25th, and dined that evening with Mr. and Mrs. Dean Horn, going up to the State school later in the evening. Mr. Peter H. Divine, the father of Louis A. Divine, had been lying unconscious and dying since the preceding Thursday, and Dr. Hanson went up to see him. He was still unconscious and remained, so till he passed quietly away about midnight. He was eighty-seven years old, and for the past few years had been feeble and ailing. He was a dear and kindly old man and well liked by all. He was always welcomed warmly during his infrequent and brief visits at our conventions and other gatherings. He was formerly instructor in shoemaking at the Illinois school, but for a good many years, had been making his home in Vancouver.

Dr. Hanson breakfasted with the teachers at the school, and afterwards addressed the pupils in the chapel. He dined with Superintendent and Mrs. Lloyd, and in the afternoon held a service at St. Luke's in Vancouver and another at St. Stephen's Cathedral in Portland. He supped with Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Nelson in Portland, and took a sleeper back to Seattle, arriving Monday morning in time to go to work at the University.

The Gallaudet Guild bazaar, on October 18th, was well attended and a good success. The table of articles for sale was in charge of Miss Doris Nation, who made a charming and efficient saleswoman. She succeeded in selling nearly everything for sale. The dinner was served about ten o'clock, and was a prolonged affair, as the guests sat and talked around the table until time to go home. Mrs. Victoria Smith helped to serve.

Mr. Charles Al Gumaer, who is now living at the Berquist, the apartment building managed by Mr. Myron J. Clark, was made happy by a visit from his married daughter, Mrs. Beverly Gayfer, of Los Angeles. It was the first time she had visited him in twenty-two years. She stayed with her daddy for six weeks at the apartment, and now that she has gone home he greatly misses her cooking. He may go to California later to live with this daughter.

Mr. Gumaer also reports the visit of a thief to his house at Richmond Highlands last August, the second time in a couple of years. This time articles to the value of a hundred and fifty dollars were stolen. Mostly clothing was taken. The one thing he regrets losing was his Shakespeare, which was handsomely bound in tooled leather.

Mr. John Langham, of Aberdeen, was a visitor at the bazaar, and at the service at St. Mark's the next day. Mr. Langham came from Iowa some time ago, with hearing relatives, and if he can find work in Seattle he will remain here. He is a builder by trade. Cecil Meakin was another visitor at the bazaar. He is a boy of about seventeen, and attends Broadway High. He has some degree of hearing, and has been educated orally. His father runs a garage.

We are informed that Mr. and Mrs. Thys Ferwerda are the proud parents of a son, born about two months ago. Most of us had not heard this news until recently, and we hasten to offer our hearty congratulations.

The Tuesday Bridge Club now has regular meetings, and threw in an extra one the evening of the 25th.

The Frats had a basket social at Moose Hall on Eighth Avenue Saturday. J. C. Howard acted as auctioneer for the beautifully decorated lunch boxes and baskets. About ten dollars was cleared for delegate expenses.

Oscar Sanders and J. C. Howard finished making the cement walls of a basement at the home of Hugo Holcombe at Manette, and are now back in town. Mr. Sanders is doing some work for Dr. Winkel in West Seattle, and Mr. Howard is doing some odd jobs in and about the house of W. S. Root.

The Hansons and Helen were the guests last night of Mr. J. C. Howard. He took them to Blanc's, where a delicious French dinner of seven courses was greatly enjoyed by host and guests. Blanc's is one of the old and well-known eating places in town. Mike Webster finished his fishing and hunting exploits this season by shooting a deer. His fraternity had some succulent venison stews and roasters, and we had a choice cut from the tenderloin.

Mrs. John Burgett writes that she and Mrs. Stuard recently visited Mrs. Manley at Orting. They were treated to a nice luncheon. Mrs. Manley is living with her niece, and is very lonely since the tragic death of her husband.

Mrs. Burgett also writes of a surprise party given to Mr. and Mrs. Stuard on their wedding anniversary. A set of dishes was given to them. Mr. J. M. Lowell took charge of the games at this party, and Mrs. Burgett gave the prizes. Mrs. Lowell won a first, and Mrs. Gerson a second prize. A letter from Mrs. Holloway, from St. Helena, Cal., discloses that the little lady has been making visits to old friends before proceeding to Los Angeles. She made a short visit to Mr. and Mrs. Divine at Vancouver, Wash., and then went to Oregon City for a few days' visit with a childhood schoolmate that she knew in Omaha before she lost her hearing. She next went to Salem for a couple of days' visit with Miss Marion Finch. She found Superintendent and Mrs. Steed very pleasant people to meet. She next went for five days to San Francisco, and then to St. Helena. On her way south, she will stop by invitation for a visit with Superintendent and Mrs. Stevenson at the Berkeley school.

A letter from Robert Bronson at Yakima says that he has been making some money picking apples. His father has a new watchdog to guard, the turkeys and chickens. A tire and some gasoline were stolen recently from their truck, and the dog will help to prevent further losses.

We are the recipients of a fine illustrated folder from St. Petersburg, Fla. It was sent by our old friend, Mr. Robert C. Miller. He says he is having a wonderful time in the "Sunshine City," and expects to spend the winter there.

THE HANSON.

Oct. 30, 1930.

ST. LOUIS

A good number of St. Louisians attended the football game at Jacksonville, Ill., between the Kansas City and Jacksonville. The score was in favor of the Kansas City boys. In the evening the large chapel was well packed to witness the Chicagoans vaudeville. It was one of the best. We are looking for the next football game between the Fulton and Jacksonville at Fulton, Mo., November 22d.

Rev. James Thomas, of Australia, who has been traveling around the world, on his way to Australia from a convention in Europe, took charge of the Silent Bazaar at the Union Christian Church November 2d. There was a large crowd of the deaf and hearing people. When he was through, we adjourned to the auditorium to see another wonderful message. Those who were not present missed a rare treat.

The N. F. S. D., Division No. 24, will have its stag at the Gallaudet Club November 29th. It is understood a good bunch of Frats from Springfield and Jacksonville, Ill., will be present. We will be glad to have them with us. Don't forget to bring along your due card, otherwise you will not be admitted.

The St. Thomas Mission (Episcopal) had a card party at the Nugent Brothers Dry Goods on the 6th. A good bunch of the deaf were there, as each table won a prize. Card parties are at full swing this coming winter. Most of them will be held at the Gallaudet Club.

Mr. Samuel Perlmutter, the Gallaudet Club's president, has been worrying about the supply of coal for the club. When it came he was busy directing the haulers where to put it. The next few days he had to stay home, from a bad cold or extra worrying.

The regular monthly social of the Silent Bazaar of the Christian Church will be Tuesday, November 25th, instead of November 28th. It will be engineered by the officers. A good program and a good time is anticipated.

Mr. Hugh Stack, formerly of St. Louis, but now of Kansas, made a trip to Jacksonville, Ill., to witness the football, because one of his boys was in the game. He was so pleased and surprised to see how his boy could play. Mr. Stack has a tailoring and pressing shop in Kansas. He is some hustler and has a good business.

A very beautiful wedding ceremony took place at the Union Christian Church on Union and Enright Avenues, between Mr. Hillard Summers and Miss Goldie Hensley, on Saturday, November 8th, 1930, at 8 p.m., by Rev. Barclay Meador was interpreted by Mrs. Ottellia Schneider. The bride party consisted of: Bridesmaids, Miss M. Stack and Miss M. Ashley. The groom's men were Mr. Merklin and Mr. E. Caferio. They also had a ring bearer and a flower girl. There was a very large crowd of deaf and hearing friends. After the ceremony, all adjourned to the church parlor to give congratulations and best wishes for the happy couple.

After receiving congratulations, the happy couple took a motor ride in the town and country. When they returned to their mother's home, Mrs. D. Sanderson, 4428 Oakland Avenue, they were greeted by another crowd of friends who wished them boundless blessings on their married life. There were games and refreshments until a late hour. The happy couple received many beautiful and useful presents from their friends.

The St. Louis Frats had their monthly meeting on the 7th, with some very important business. Especially that all Frats must show up at the hall in December to elect new officers or they will have to "cough up" a fine. We have been well pleased with the present officers and hope they will be re-elected.

Rev. Charles Schubkegel, a Lutheran missionary to the deaf, announces that he will have a good message for the deaf at the Grace Church, corner St. Louis and Glasgow Avenue, in the basement, Sunday, November 23d, at 11 o'clock in the morning. He has a good congregation and is doing well.
